

The Traveler's Lab
From Theory to Practice: Digital Methods in Research and Teaching

THURSDAY 9/7 – Allbritton 311

1.30-2:00pm — WELCOME & INTRODUCTIONS :
What is this workshop about? Digital Methods From Theory to Practice

2-3.00pm — PRESENTATION #1 :
Traveler's Lab Model and its History: What have we been doing at Wesleyan/Marlboro?
Gary Shaw (Wesleyan University) and Adam Franklin-Lyons (Marlboro College)

3-3:30pm — BREAK

3:30-5:30pm — ROUNDTABLE #1 :
Research and Pedagogical Questions:
3:30-4.00 — General introductions of participants' interests & projects
4.00-5.00 — Wes/Marlboro Students - introductions & presentations of projects
5.00-5.30 — Discussion: Identifying and Making Connections

6pm — DINNER Catering: A Perfect Thyme, by Sharon Laramie

FRIDAY 9/8 – Center for the Humanities Seminar Room

9-10.00am — PRESENTATION #2:
The Pleiades Gazetteer: ancient world geography and digital humanities
Jeffrey Becker - Binghamton University

10.15-12:00pm — ROUNDTABLE #2: Networking Digital Research & Pedagogy
John Clark (Lafayette College) & Jason Simms (Lafayette College) : Moderators

12--1.30pm — LUNCH Catering: Udupi Bhavan
Posters or images from previous day to facilitate further discussion/networking

1.30-3.00pm — PRESENTATION #3: Digital Humanities in the Classroom:
Students mapping a monastic network — Kathryn Jasper (Illinois State Univ.)
Students creating a place-based encyclopedia — Jesse Torgerson (Wesleyan Univ.)
Students learning & applying multiple tools — Kate Birney (Wesleyan Univ.)

3-3:30pm — BREAK

3:30p-5.30pm — ROUNDTABLE #3: Reflections and the Way Forward
Helen Birkett (Exeter University) : Moderator

6pm — CLOSING RECEPTION

*This workshop is generously sponsored by the following Wesleyan University entities :
the Center for the Humanities, the Allbritton Center,
the Department of History, and the Quantitative Analysis Center*